

Post-Pandemic Teacher Training: Global Civic Education as a Basis for Change

The Asia-Pacific UNESCO Center for International Solidarity Education has announced a competition to participate in training seminars on global civic education and international solidarity education.

Curriculum Topic: "Post-Pandemic Teacher Training: Global Civic Education as a Basis for Change."

The program is conducted in English.

The first phase of the curriculum will take place from May 30 to July 29, 2022 with the participation of the winners of the competition.

The second stage will be held on a competitive basis from June 30 to July 29, 2022.

Successful participants will be given the opportunity to participate in a "grant" and "mentoring" competition by submitting a project proposal for global civic education and international solidarity education. Application forms must be completed online by May 16 at the following link: <https://forms.gle/ALsDHN6BZJ1vroHM8>

Applications for participation in the competition must be completed in English and sent to the e-mail address of the Department of International Relations of the Ministry (xab@edu.uz) by May 14 this year.
